

Canadian Women's Heart Health Alliance

Knowledge Translation and Mobilization Working Group |

Member Profile

Jill Bruneau, PhD, NP, CCN(C)

Assistant Professor

Faculty of Nursing

Memorial University of Newfoundland

St. John's NFLD | @jillBruneau

Alliance member since 2021

Biography

I am currently an Assistant Professor and Nurse Practitioner Coordinator for the Master of Science in Nursing Program, NP Option at Memorial University. I am a nurse practitioner with experience working and caring for cardiac patients over the past 20 years. My dissertation work was focused on cardiovascular health promotion and the development and testing of an intervention used by health care providers and patients in clinical practice. I am currently in the process of working on my program of research and am interested in connecting with others on research projects related to this area.