

Canadian Women's Heart Health Alliance

Knowledge Translation and Mobilization Working Group |

Member Profile

Jasmine Grewal, MD, FRCPC

Clinical Associate Professor, University of British Columbia
Cardiologist, St. Paul's Hospital
Director Cardiac Obstetrics Clinic
Director Pacific Adult Congenital Heart Program
Vancouver, BC
Alliance member since 2018

Biography

Dr Jasmine Grewal is a Professor of Medicine at the University of British Columbia and a member of the UBC Division of Cardiology and is based at St Paul's Hospital.

She is the Director of the Yasmin and Amir Virani Provincial Adult Congenital Heart Program and Provincial Cardio-Obstetrics Program.

With fellowship training in Adult Congenital Heart Disease/Pregnancy and Heart Disease (Toronto General Hospital) and Echocardiography (Mayo Clinic, Rochester MN), Dr. Grewal is actively involved in clinical and research activities in these fields. She is currently involved as a primary and co-investigator in numerous single center and multi-center research studies in the areas of congenital heart disease and pregnancy and heart disease. To date she has over 100 publications.

She is the current Annual Meeting Chair for the Canadian Cardiovascular Congress, incoming President of the Canadian Adult Congenital Heart Network and Past President of the Alliance for Adult Research in Congenital Cardiology. She is a co-author of the 2022 CCS Guidelines for the Management of Congenital Heart Disease and co-chair of the 2021 Clinical Practice Document on Management of Cardiac Disease in Pregnancy.