

Canadian Women's Heart Health Alliance

Knowledge Translation and Mobilization Working Group | Member Profile

Laurie-Anne Boivin-Proulx, MD, MSC
PGY5 Adult Cardiology
University of Montreal
Montreal, QC | @ProulxBoivin_LA
Member since 2021

Biography

Dr. Laurie-Anne Boivin-Proulx is a Cardiology fellow at University of Montreal. She graduated from medical school (M.D.) at the University of Sherbrooke and completed her internal medicine training at the University of Montreal. In parallel to her medical training, she's completed her Master of Sciences in Epidemiology (M.Sc.) at the Harvard Chan School of Public Health in Boston and is involved in peer education and advocacy group, noticeably as the Co-Chair of Trainee Program Planning Committee (TPPC) of the Canadian Cardiovascular Society (CCS). She actively involved in clinical research in Cardiology, her current research interest including cost-effectiveness analysis, coronary physiology and women's cardiovascular health.