Biography

Dr. Harjinder Parwana is a Clinical Pharmacotherapeutic Specialist working in a collaborative care environment with the Neurology team at Jim Pattison Outpatient Surgery and Care Centre in Surrey, BC. She first completed her Bachelor's of Science in Pharmacy at UBC in 2002 and then went on to do a residency with Vancouver General Hospital's Pharmacy Residency Program. After several years of practice and working as chair of the Programs Committee with Canadian Society of Hospital Pharmacists of B.C., she went back to complete her Post Baccalaureate Doctorate of Pharmacy at UBC in 2008. She has since worked in a variety of clinical settings including neurocritical care, ICU, and CCU. Her practice in neurology started at VGH in 2010 and she transitioned to outpatient care in Fraser Health since 2021, working primarily in the area of vascular risk factor optimization post stroke.
