

2021 Canadian Women's Heart Health Summit

February 10-13, 2021

Judith Moatti
Woman with Lived Experience
PHA Canada Ambassador
Montréal, QC

Biography

Judith Moatti lives in Montreal, Québec. She was first diagnosed with Pulmonary Arterial Hypertension (PAH) in 2009, at the young age of 25. After a long road to stability and coping with her new reality, she has become a strong advocate and spokesperson for those affected by PAH. Locally, she became a patient representative for Foundation HTAPQ (a Québec-based patient support organization) in 2012. And she also works as a support group leader for patients living or affected by PH in her region. Judith is passionate about sharing her story as a way to raise awareness of pulmonary arterial hypertension and the importance for earlier diagnosis. As an ambassador for PHA Canada, her focus will be on community outreach and awareness.